

Peace Corps Park

Honoring the founding of the Peace Corps in 1961 and those American ideals and values symbolized by Peace Corps service

It's time to more fully tell America's story.

Artist Larry Kirkland and Michael Vergason Landscape Architects have designed a compelling commemorative work, inspiring engagement and constructive interaction with peoples throughout the world. To learn more about the design, visit PeaceCorpsCommemorative.org.

*The Peace Corps Commemorative will symbolically reaffirm America's compassion, generosity and perseverance –
our shared humanity
and commitment to
helping others,
at home and abroad.*

*By living and working with others in the spirit of mutual understanding,
respect and trust,
Americans have transcended differences in culture, faith, ethnicity, and economic disparity, striving for a better and more peaceful world.*

Within easy walking distance of the US Capitol, National Mall and Union Station, the Commemorative will welcome and invite visitors to reflect on a different manifestation of the nation's historic ideals, values and experiences exemplified by Peace Corps service.
